THE PROMISED LAND.

We all nave stood in some dream of youth
On the sacred mount of old,
And a promised land for us has beamed
In the morning's purple and gold.
Oh! how fair were its whitened fields!
How sweet were its seented gales!
And its rivers over sands of gold,
Through beautiful blooming vales.

But we who would win that heritage
On the mountain height revealed,
To the present's stern relentless call,
The brightness of hope must yield:
Must turn with a willing heart and strong
From the future's charmed beams,
For the work we have to do to-day
Is worth an age of dreams.

We must wake to patience, wake to toil,
And hide deep, deep within,
The beautiful vision that charmed our youth,
Of the land it is ours to win;
We must tread with cheerless and tireless feet
The dreary wilderness way—
Must follow the pillar of fire by night,
The pillar of cloud by day.

For the light is gone out from yesterday,
To-morrow is far away,
But close at hand with a living voice,
Speaks the Angel of to-day.
"Let the work which the present hour demands
Thy hands and thy heart employ.
And the future unsought shall come with a crown
Of victory and of joy!"

Artemus Ward.—He becomes the happy Father of Twins.

Dear Surs:—I take my pen in hand to inform you that Ime in a state of great bliss & I trust that this will fine yu injoyin the same blessins. Ime reguven8ed. Ive found the immorkal waters of youth, so to speak, & am as limber and as frisky as a 2 yer old stear, & in the future, them boys that sez "go up ole bawld hed," to me, do so at the Perril of ther hazzard indevidyually. Ime powerful happy! Heaps of joy has disended on me to once, & I pheel like a bran new man. Sumtimes I arsk myself "aint it a dream!" & suntimiside myself sez "it air," but when i lik at them little things i knows its a "stern reallerty." as Shakespeer says—2 realierties I may sa—& I feel almighty gay.

I returned from my summer champane with my unpareled show of wax works and livin wild beests of Pray, in the early Part of this ere month. The people of Baldwinsville met me cordully, and I immejitly commenst resting myself with my farmyly. The other inte while I was down to the tavern tostin my shins again the barroom fire & amoosin the crowd with a few of my adventures, who shud come bearheded and terrible eveited but Bill Stokes, who sez, sez he:

LOAFERS IN A PRINTING OFFICE.—The composing room of a printing office is not the place to tell long stories or again points.

CALVANIZED TURNED IRON TILES & Sheets, for Building numbers, to. the place to tell long stories, or argue points in metaphysics. A printing office is like a school; it can have no interlopers, hangerson, or twaddlers, without a serious inconvenience, to say nothing of loss of time, which is just as good as gold to the printer. What should be thought of a man who would enter a school and twaddle first with the teacher and then with the scholars—inter-rupting the discipline of one and the studies of the other? And yet this is the precise effect of the loafers with the course of busieffect of the loafers with the course of business—distracts the great attention which is necessary to the good printer. No gentleman will enter it and presume to act the loafer. He will feel above it; for no real man sacrifices the interests or interferes with the duties of others. The loafer does both. Let him think, if he never has, that the last place he should ever insinuate his worthless and unwelcome presence is in the printing office.—S. F. Compositor.

A New Drop-Game.

A New Drop-Game.

New York sharpers are somewhat famous for their adroitness in "raising the wind;" but the following specimen of Western knavery is rather ahead of New York in that line of business. The Seymour Times says:

"A man of genteel appearance, with carpet sack in hand, taking it a-foot, came along the public square in Lexington, Scott County, Ind., and when crossing the square dropped dead to all appearance. Everybody ran, medical aid was called, rubbing commenced, the stranger still slept, and was very stiff; to all appearance his limbs were paralyzed so that he could be raised without the limbs giving way. Bleed him, bleed him, several halloed; the man comes to all at once; looks wild. Voice in the crowd,—"Who are you? where did yeu come from?" He pulls out a slate and pencil, and writes:

"I have been out to Michigan to see a brother, but when I got there he was dead.

brother, but when I got there he was dead. I am making my way home, am out of money; I live in Cleveland, Ohio."

Sympathy runs high; the crowd makes him up a pony purse, $8 50, and gives it to him. He travels to Bent, nine miles; drops again; everybody is alarmed; he cones to him. He travels to Bent, nine miles; drops again; everybody is alarmed; he comes to, tells he is out of money; they make him up a pony purse; the Doctor takes him home, and gives him something to eat; off he goes again to Riche's Mill; drops again; no men about; women frightened; and run for men folk; find one; man lies dead until man comes; women with camphor bottles running in every direction; excitement high; Mr. Richie takes him into the house, keeps him all night, gives him breakfast, lodging and $10. He leaves for North Madison; drops again; he writes he is out of money, and wants to get home; hat goes round; he make $9.50 of the good people of North Madison. He goes on, and is still dropping and traveling. is still dropping and traveling.

Saturday Morning, March 17, 1860.

No Justice for British Columbia,

Were we to take the vote of the House yesterday, as an index of their opinions as regards absenteeism, we would conclude that British Columbia need expect no help from the Assembly of Vancouver Island. Major Foster's resolution was ably supported by every argument that a highminded and honorable man could urge; but all in vain. No one but Mr. Waddington supported his motion to break up the absentee institution, and turn the vampyres back to their legitimate haunts. One honorable member, who owes his precarious seat to judicial unserupulousness, both before and after the election, stood forth as defender of absenteeism. Then followed Mr. George Hunter Cary, who treated the resolution urging the House to lop off members who belonged to the sister Colony, as an insult to the intelligence of the House, and to the constituency of Victoria. "He wanted to know, if it was thought they were about when they elected him?" in that " black and desolate region " would guidance :

this last-born of England's colonies. THE REPRESENTATIVES ALL. - If ever with an inch of dirt on the floor, and pondence. The steamers should lay in the smoke as plenty as in an Indian wigwam. Going to it we have seen the Speaker and a now deceased member with picayune questions. Hatsell or Jefferson, the debaters. Even the parliamentary rules of an Indian council, where one chief speaks and all the warriors listen, were unheeded. Debates partook more of the character of a lot of Bavarians after they had swallowed the sixtieth glass of lager, than of men who aspired to the style and prerogatives of an Assembly, and expected posterity to render them celebrated by apothe-Our usually staid countenance is even compelled to relax its rigidity, when we watch the movements of the dramatis personæ who now occupy the position of legislative luminaries at the end of Bird Cage walk, in a building that looks more like a Dutch toy than the Hall of Representatives of Vancouver Island. Yesterday, this modern Lycurgii, with more than Spartan endurance, sat out three hours in an atmosphere that would freeze an Esquimaux. Whether no fire was lighted from a desire to lessen the taxes or not, we cannot tell,or whether honorable members despise following in the footsteps of their illustrious predecessors with an arm-full of bark each. is beyond our power to solve. It may have arose, and with due patriotic pathos warned anchored in Royal Bay. the Senate of the danger of perishing, except the Sergeant-at-Arms furnished caloric. Certain it is, no Assembly ever had the "blues" worse. We were almost convinced at one time that there were some hopes of the country's progress, as they were fast becoming "Bluenoses." Had they been at all like "the Legislature Theatre of the wardrobes. of a thousand and one drinks," they would have adjourned to Bayley's and fortified the inner man with spiritual comfort. But brave and enduring men as they are, they stood straight at a 2:40 rate for Victoria.

Arrival of the Otter.

The Otter arrived about one o'clock on Thursday morning, bringing later news from Fraser River. Ballou's Express brought down $16,000 in dust; in private hands, $7,000-making a total of $23,000.

The mule-tax still continues to create a deal of excitement and ill-feeling. Not a dollar has yet been collected at Yale or Douglas, and the packers who have wintered at Lake Sumas say they will take their animals above Yale without loads, and pack from the upper country.

Boats continue on their way up the cañons, but are able to make but slow progress, ow-ing to the river being blocked up with ice. Several boats belonging to miners on their way up the canons had been capsized and lost, and one man (name not ascertain-ed) drowned. The White Lilly, a boat which left here about a month since, carrying ten tons, was sunk twice on her way through the Big Cañon, but she finally arrived at Boston Bar with the goods slightly damaged.

The miners along the river had got to work, and the men were doing, in some instances, remarkably well. Prince Albert's Flat is said to have proved very rich.

THE CLERKSHIP AGAIN .-- We extract the following from the Halifax Acadian Recorder, of January 28th, 1860, showing the manthat the electors did not know what ner in which the Nova Scotia Assembly elect their subordinate officers. It is hoped They certainly did not know that his public it may be accepted by the worshippers of declaration that he would never set foot again prerogative, as a lesson for their future in that "black and desolate region" would be violated, nor that it would be treated as the Spaniards in Peru treated their oaths to the patriots as "merely breath". Had it been supposed then that £400 a-year and pickings unknown would be as great an attraction as when he left England with "six law books, a carpet bag and a tooth brush," in search of "colonial experience," it is very unlikely that a seat in the Assembly would be to-day prostituted.

In another portion of our columns will be found the way in which the vote turned. The names of those against the motion are set up in very small type, as a standing monument of their justice and independence!

Nothing remains but for British Columbia to redouble its efforts,—leave no stone unturned,—to show Hef Majesty's Government the attention as the found that are supposition.

The Pacific arrived at remember the old House of Assembly a seven o'clock and only allowed our citizens year ago, meeting in a room in the Fort, five hours in which to make up their corresport twenty-four hours, at least, after arriving. In this connection, would it not be as well for our merchants to award a certain an armful of bark to light the fire, before sum to a reliable person, to be stationed at they electrified themselves into agony about | Port Townsend, for bringing over the mails and express, which are left at that place by May or Cushing, were alike unknown to alternate steamers on their way up the Sound. We think the enterprise would more than pay for itself, and we will be willing to take a share ourselves.

> THE DEPUTY SHERIFF AGAIN. - Wm. Williams, a respectable resident of Victoria, and a native of Cornwall, England, was yes terday arrested by the young deputy sheriff, and taken to his office at the Police Barracks, on a charge of owing money to somebody, which he would n't pay. The deputy had neither summons, warrant, nor paper of any kind authorizing him to make the arrest, but compelled Mr. W. to follow him by virtue of his office-leading the way with as much pomposity as Beadle Bumble in "Oliver Twist." On arriving at the office, the "bear" discovered that he had arrested the wrong man, and liberated the gentleman. We understand that legal proceedings will be commenced against Sheriff Heaton, who is responsible for the acts of his deputy. Is it not disgraceful that such an ignoramus should be allowed to occupy so responsible a position as that of deputy sheriff?

HIGH TIMES AT NEW WESTMINSTER .-On Thursday of last week, several well known officials at New Westminster were handsomely sold by a report that rich diggings had been struck on the river bank in front of Holbrook's wharf. A man, known as "Texas," took a pan and commenced washing out dirt. This drew the attention of the postmaster to the spot, and on "Texas" rising, he eagerly inquired the prospect. 'Texas'' replied that he reckoned he had about a dollar, and proceeded to put up a notice. The postmaster, however, tore it down, and stuck up one taking possession of the diggings in the "name of the Queen." During the dispute which arose, Judge B-e and Capt. B-w were attracted to the spot, and on seeing the prospect, became excited. Somewhat incredulous, however, the Judge somewhat increatious, however, the Judge took a shovel, filled a pan with the dirt, waded into the water up to his knees, and proceeded to wash it out. The result was, an immense lot of yellow metal was found in the bottom of the pan, much to the astonishment of the Judge, postmaster and captain, and the balance of the bystanders. On weighing the metal, it was found that the prospect amounted to nearly three dollars. "On, Judge," exclaimed a party in the seeret, "you've salted the claim on us." "As God is my witness, gentlemen," replied the Judge, solemnly, raising his right arm, and pointing towards the sky, "I have not—I wouldn't do such a mean thing." "Well, then, sorrebody's salted the claim on you." "Well," replied the Judge, "if the claim is salted, I'd work a week up to my waist in water, if I can get three dollars to the pan. It makes no difference where it comes from as long as its there!" "Texas" stood by enjoying the fun, occasionally retiring behind a pile of lumber to have a laugh. The officials and towns people commenced to stake out claims, put up notices, etc. and Judge B—e took "Texas" aside took a shovel, filled a pan with the dirt, laugh. The officials and towns people commenced to stake out claims, put up notices, etc., and Judge B—e took "Texas" aside and othered him $500 tor his claim. While they were talking it over, a Mrs. L. came down to the spot, and looking at the metal, said to the Judge, "why don't you cut it?" The Judge took out his knife and hacked a piece of the gold, tested it with his "wisdom tooth," and, turning very ted in the face, remarked: "Spelter and brass filings, by George!" The murder was out! The otherals had been sold! They all went of home and changed their ciothes, and declared that the whole thing was well managed, and worthy of a good laugh.

THE WEATHER .- Yesterday was the most disagreeable day of the season-regular March weather. It rained and snowed alternately, and pedestrains resorted to overcoats to protect them from the cold winds.

CAPT. HUNT .- Capt. Hunt, U. S. A., stationed at San Juan Island, together with Capt. Woodruff of the Semiahmoo garrison, arrived in town on Wednesday. They camp near the Governor's house.

No steps will be taken by the authorities to punish the Indians who rescued a prisoner from the Police on Saturday last owing to the fact that the arrest was not according to law.

POLICE COURT .- Two drunks, one a native, were fined 5s yesterday, or six hours in the cells, for being incapable of taking care of themselves.

This evening Miss Caroline Chapman takes her benefit, on which occasion one of the best bills of the season will be produced.

Loss of the Bark Glympse.

About nine o'clock on Thursday night. the bark Glympse, Gove, master, from San Francisco, struck on the rocks off Clover Point, a short distance beyond Beacon Hill. Exertions were immediately made to get her off; but it was soon ascertained that her bottom had received considerable injury, and that she was making water fast. The passengers-of which there were 80 Chinese-and crew were set to work at the pumps; but the vessel soon filled partially with water and went over on her beam-ends The captain says he mistook the light at the entrance of Victoria harbor for the Esquimalt light, and supposed when he had reached Clover Point, that he was making the former. He also says there was no light at the Esquimalt entrance.

Yesterday morning, on hearing of the disaster, Admiral Baynes immediately ordered the Satellite to steam-up and proceed to the wreek; which she did, and arrived at the Point about one o'clock, P. M., but owing to the high wind prevailing at the time, and the loughness of the Straits, no assistance could be readered by her during the arr could be rendered by her during the day.

The probabilities are the vessel will prove a total wreck, as it is hardly possible she can hold together to night if the gale continues.

The Glympse is about one year old, and was consigned to Messrs. Sam'l Price & Co., She was insured for only $16,000-her real she was insured for only $10,000—ner rear value we could not ascertain. The total value of the goods aboard is $28,445 81, a portion of which (and possibly the majority) will be saved. The greater portion of the consignees are not insured, we are sorry to

The principal consignees of the unfortunate vessel were: Reinhart & Co., $4,722, insured; Sporborg & Co., $3,171, insured; Webster & Co., $2,430, uninsured; Hudson's Bay Co., $3000,uninsured; Martin Prag, $2,-282, uninsured; Langley Bros., $1,107, insured; L. Wolf, $1,302; R. Cohn, $1,475; -the balance was in late of less than $1000. balance was in lots of less than $1000.

We sympathize with the sufferers in their heavy losses by this disaster. Coming so soon after the dull winter through which we have just passed, makes it very hard to

About eight o'clock last night we learned that men had been busy during the day in removing the stores from the wrecked vessel. It was thought that she would hold together last night, and workmen will be sent to-day to remove the freight, if possible. The Satellite had returned to Esquimalt.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

FRIDAY, March 16.

J. J. Southgate, Esqr., was sworn in by Chief

J. J. Southgate, Esqr., was sworn in by Chief Justice Cameron.

Two messages were received from His Excellency. I. Acknowledging the address of the House calling for returns of revenue and expene ditures, and states that they would be laid beforthe House as soon as made up. 2. Acknowledging the election of Edward Doggett as Clerk of the Assembly, and stating his concurrence with it.

The Speaker commenced reading a letter from Judge Cameron about attending the committee investigating the taulty oath; but was called to order by the Attorney General. Mr. Crease stated that the Chief Justice was willing to give every information, but would not attend.

Mr. H. P. P. Crease presented a petition from J. Nagle, asking aid to keep up the lighthouse erected by him at the mouth of Victoria harbor.

Dr. Tolmie gave notice of a Bill to provide for laving out and making roads.

Major Foster moved a resolution to test the feeling of the House respecting British Columbia officials sitting and voting in the House. He supported it at considerable length, showing how injuriously the absentee system acted on British Columbia; how the integrity and independence of the House were endancered by allowing them to occupy seats here; that the House should not set so absurd and injurious a precedent. He referred to Mr. Cary having said in public he would go no more to British Columbia, and now wanted to go in order to attend to his official duties there.

Mr. WADDINGTON concurred with the mover of there.

Mr. Waddington concurred with the mover of the motion.

Mr. S. Franklin opposed the motion—thought it proper to allow British Columbia officials to sit in the House.

Mr. Attorney-General Carry opposed the resolution—characterised at as useless and an insult to the intelligence of the constituency of Victoria and the House. He dwelt at some length on the aubject in a sophistical strain, and stated that if any move on the question should come from any where, it should be British Columbia.

On the vote being token, there appeared for the motion, franklin, southgate, medonald, islanic crease, gordon and eary.

The House resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole on the report of the Committee on Standing Orders, Mr. S. Franklin in the chair. Some two or three hours were spent in the discussion. The principal points settled were that election petitions should be sent in within fourteen days after the first sitting of the House subsequent to the election; that I and I2 Vie, should govern elections here, except in the sum as regards bonds; that the recognizances entered into by petitioners should be £200; that an examiner of recognizances be appointed by the Speaker; that a Standing Committee of five on elections should be five on the first serious be appointed; that a scalect committee of five be constituted from the first five names drawn by the Speaker; that notices of the grounds of objections should be given to the party petitioned against, as soon as the petition was accepted by the Standing Committee; that the costs should be taxed by an examiner appointed by the House.

On the Committee rising, it was agreed to report to the House on Saturday, at 3 r. m., to which hour the House and Saturday, at 3 r. m., to which hour the House and Saturday, at 3 r. m., to which hour the House and Saturday, at 3 r. m., to which hear the House and Saturday, at 3 r. m., to which

DR. ROSENBAUM'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS Is THE BEST REMEDY ever yet manufactured for the cure of all Diseases, caused by a disordered state of the Stomach and Bowels.

Dyspepsia, Indigestion, And other similar maladies, yield at once to the beneficial influence of this excellent Medicine Try them. Test them on your Constitution, and go on your way rejoicing.

CAUTION.

Owing to the unexplained demand for these Bitters, some unprincipled parties have endeavored to counterfeit them. The genuine ROSENBAUM have the name of N. B. JACOBS & CO branded on each oork, and their signature on each label. Beware also of a worl-thies article, called Rosenon-Fs Bitters, put up in this city. Its external appearance is very much like the true Rosenbaum, but it is useless as a remedial agent, and has only been got up to prey on the reputation attained by Rosenbaum's Bitters. For sale everywhere.
